Presented by the Department of Music, University of North Dakota

Josephine Campbell Recital Hall, Hughes Fine Arts Building, UND campus

Ticket Prices: $5 for adults, $3 for students

Guitarist Jesse Langen is currently pursuing a doctorate in guitar performance at Northwestern University. He has been a featured soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and a guest of the Minnesota Guitar Society Concert Series, the Chicago Segovia Classical Guitar Series, the Memphis "Imagine" New Music Series, Columbia University in New York, as well as other venues in U.S. and in Europe. An avid player of new music, he has premiered pieces by many living composers, and can be heard regularly as a soloist, as well as in duos with Susan Crandall, flutist, and Amy Conn, soprano, and with the Janis Ensemble. On the concert will be the world premiere of a new work by Dr. Michael Wittgraf as well as works by Debussy, Cage and Berio.
